

Attention Star™

BEHIND THE DESIGN: In our search to develop a dominating and unique ball motion, our R&D team spent endless hours evaluating computer generated stats based on various block shapes modeled at different densities inside the A.I. Core. It was quite clear during this process that the altered variant of the Momentous block provided us the unique ball motion we were seeking. Thus bringing the Momentous™ AV + A.I. Core to life.

From there, it took exactly one on-lane test to decide which pearl material would best provide the most overall response/change of direction down lane - eTrax™ PLUS Pearl. Initially formulated and used on the RST™ X-2, this cover provides one of the best footprints throughout the lane without reducing the overall responsiveness to friction down lane.
