DESIGN INTENT:

One of the most sought-after bowling balls in history is finally making its long-awaited return. The Alpha Crux reemerges with an upgraded core and cover system while retaining the unmistakable cosmetics of the original. As before, the Game Improvement (GI) System has been implemented on the Alpha Crux. The GI-26 Coverstock has been engineered to handle today's heavier volumes of oil, advancing the same performance principles established by the GI-16 formula. On a microscopic level, the deep ridges and valleys of the surface texture function like a rudder on a ship, allowing the ball to make a decisive and predictable move at the breakpoint. At the heart of the design, the proven Catalyst Core remains unchanged from previous Crux Series releases. Its distinctive inner cavity geometry ensures drilling layouts maintain their intended dynamics without distortion. Complementing this is the integration of A.I. Outer Core Technology, which amplifies energy transfer, enhances overall motion, and delivers even greater hitting power than ever before.
