DESIGN INTENT:

The Phaze II has set the standard for a medium-heavy oil symmetric solid within the Storm product line. Still going strong after nearly 10 years in the catalog, the Phaze II pairs a dynamic core and cutting edge coverstock technology. The TX-16 cover was designed specifically to create a wide footprint and give you confidence that the ball will see the body of the pattern properly. Expect to see a more aggressive benchmark-type reaction across a wide spectrum of patterns. The Velocity Core features a multi-density design that yields perfect RG/Diff values to control the mid-lane while also delivering one of the most predictable yet dynamic backend shapes ever seen. The ability of the Phaze II to perform for multiple styles across multiple patterns is unmatched for both tournament and league conditions.
